Exchange Students Tell PTA of Their Native Lands

Kenneth M. Pelley of 965 Fair Ave. as elected president of the Salem Senior High School Parent-Teacher Association for the 1963-64 season, at a PTA meeting in the high school cafeteria Friday evening.

Last evening's meeting, presided over by Russell Hackett, was the final one of the current school year. The meeting featured an assemblage of five foreign teenagers who are studying in area high schools.

Pictured above chatting informally in the High School lounge before the meeting are (l. to r.) Warren Pill of Melbourne, Australia, who is attending school in Hubbard; Azhar Djaleois of Indonesia, the exchange student at Salem High School; Vera C. Varila of San Jose, Costa Rica, who is in school at Minerva; Susana Castano of Argentina, now enrolled at Canfield High School; Raymond Rogers, the Salem High senior who next year will study in Trogen, Switzerland, under sponsorship of the Christian Youth Exchange Program, and Pieter Henry deNecker of the Republic of South Africa, who is now a student at Poland High School.

The foreign exchange students now living in nearby cities each spoke briefly, telling about customs in the lands from which they came, which include Argentina, Costa Rica, Australia and South Africa. Salem's exchange student, Azhar Djaleois of Indonesia, who is staying at the Rolin Herron home here, also spoke.

Like 'Hot Dogs' Hamburgers
Comments made by the foreign students included praise for American hamburgers and "hot dogs," and their approval of the frequency with which ice cream is served in American homes.

Three of the five students revealed that in their schools back home, uniforms are worn. A girl student from Argentina described her eagerness to see snow for the first time upon reaching this country. However, by February of this year, she admitted, she was rather tired of the white precipitation.

Approximately 50 P.T.A. members, students and friends attended the Friday evening meeting, which was preceded by a tea and dance for students hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Rolin Herron.

Besides Pelley, who takes over the presidency held this school year by Hackett, other new officers are: Vice president, Andrew Kekel treasurer, Robert Zeck; secretary, Mrs. Gilbert Everhart.

Passage Necessary for Rhodes' Economy Program

Three Important Bills To Be Considered By Legislators

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
News Staff Correspondent
COLUMBUS, Ohio—Three bills

vital to Gov. James A. Rhodes' program for pumping new vigor into Ohio's economy will have passed the half-way mark in the legislature by Wednesday.

One of them, a bill to bolster the nearly depleted unemployment compensation fund, cleared the House last Wednesday and will be assigned for Senate committee hearings early in the week. Scheduled for House action Tuesday is a bill to implement the governor's top-priority industrial and economic development program.

House to Act Next

The following afternoon the House is scheduled to record its decision on the proposed $1.3 billion balanced budget, which calls for no new taxes.

It's no secret that there will be Democratic opposition to both the development and appropriations bills, but the minority is so far in the minority this year that nothing short of mass GOP defection could stall either measure. Republicans outnumber their Democratic colleagues 88-48 and it takes only 69 votes to pass a bill.

Virtually all of the governor's program is tied to an overall improvement of Ohio's economic climate. He has been stressing that point since pre-election campaign days and the legislature has been working on it for most of the last 16 weeks.

All Bear Important Labels

All three of the bills that should be in the hands of the Senate by the end of the week have an important bearing on the image Rhodes is trying to build for Ohio.

The unemployment compensation bill is aimed at making the jobless pay fund solvent in seven years by increasing employer contributions by $60 million a year. At the same time, it assures employers — and, importantly to the Rhodes program, potential employers — that because of tighter benefit qualifications they will be paying for legitimate claims.

From the viewpoint of providing new jobs and encouraging new industry to locate and expand in Ohio, the industrial development bill is the most essential cog in the governor's program.

It proposes a new multidivision department charged with selling Ohio to industrialists and encouraging industrial research.

The bill also calls for creation of an Ohio Development Financing Commission with authority to issue revenue bonds to provide cash loans to industries needing a financial assist in locating or expanding.

Administration sources say that as soon as the development authority is born, Ohio will be able to get its hands on at least $10 million in "seed pool" funds from

Photographer Claims Raid on Refineries

Attack on Cuba Doubted by U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A free lance photographer who claims he took part in a bombing raid on Havana says he'll press the attack on Communist Cuba "at every opportunity."

More than eight hours after Alexander Rorke Jr. of New York gave newsmen his account of a low-level bombing run over a Havana oil refinery, the Cuban government echoed most of his story and said it holds the United States responsible.

But the State Department cast doubt on the whole matter. Press officer Lincoln White said: "We have no information on this at all, and we assume that if it had happened we would have heard about it. The first voice to shrill about this would have been radio Havana."

After Havana Radio broadcast the Cuban government's statement Friday night, White had no comment.

Associated Press correspondent George Arfield said in a dispatch from Cuba that there were no visible indications that the NICO Lopez refinery outside Havana had been bombed. He said usually reliable sources had expressed doubt there was a raid.

Havana Radio said "the Cuban government holds the United States government responsible for these pirate attacks and the consequences that may come from them."

It said a formal diplomatic protest was being prepared.

As outlined by the Cuban government, the raid took place at 10 p.m. Thursday night. Rorke told newsmen the plane started its bombing run at 8:55 p.m. and was over the refinery for 4 minutes and 40 seconds.

In most other details the two versions meshed. Both Rorke and the government statement said a two-engine plane approached from the north, flew over the Nico Lopez refinery, dropped a 100-pound bomb and several napalm fire bombs then flew northward.

Havana radio said none of the bombs exploded. Rorke said he thought he heard the 100-pounder hit a refinery tank but he was unable to see any damage. He said he was busy filming the raid, but that the film turned out poorly.

Some of his answers were cryptic, such as when he told newsmen that the plane had taken off from a "small land mass off the Eurasian continent." Later he said "actually, the plane was launched from an island south of Cuba, then we swung around and came in the way it had been suggested."

Khrushchev Supports Laos Neutrality

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev has assured the United States he will support neutrality for Laos. But there was no indication whether he agreed with President Kennedy on concrete steps to halt the fighting in the tiny Southeast Asian Kingdom.

Khrushchev met with U.S. Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman for 3½ hours Friday and received a personal appeal from President Kennedy to restore peace in Laos.

A communique issued later said simply: "The President and the chairman of the Council of Ministers reaffirmed that both governments fully support the general agreement on the Laotian question about which there was an exchange of views between them at Vienna (in 1961) and a mutual understanding reached."

Neither the communique nor U.S. Embassy officials indicated how the discussions had proceeded or whether any concrete action to stop the fighting in Laos was agreed upon.

Visit Is Cuban Leader's First To Soviet Union

Fidel Arrives In Murmansk En Route To Waiting Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro said Saturday he would cherish the memory of his ear-splitting welcome in the arctic city of Murmansk as "the most exciting moment of our life."

The Soviet news agency Tass said thousands had greeted the bearded Cuban on his hush-hush midnight arrival for a first visit to the Soviet Union. Castro put it higher and said he would guess all 200,000 of the city's population had turned out to meet him.

Leading them was First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan who went to Havana last autumn to smooth things over after Soviet Premier Khrushchev had said he would withdraw Soviet rockets.

Neither Castro nor Mikoyan made any mention Saturday of those events in their speeches, which were broadcast by Moscow Radio.

Castro began calmly and slowly, but was soon shouting his Soviet translator, who had begun shouting at the very beginning.

The fact that Castro was arriving in the Soviet Union was a closely guarded secret, both here and in Cuba, although it had been announced 11 days ago that the Cuban would make a visit to the Soviet Union this year.

It will not be Castro's first meeting with Khrushchev. They met in New York at a United Nations session more than 2 years ago.

Castro began his speech by praising the people of Murmansk for their "great sacrifices" during World War II, when the port was one of the main entry points for the vast quantities of supplies that came from the West.

"Speaking honestly," Castro said, "I never supposed that it would be at this point on the globe that I would start my acquaintance with your great country."

Officials Probe Mine Disaster

Explosion Claims 22 In W. Virginia

CLARKSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—Inconsolable survivors planned today funerals for 22 victims of a violent coal mine explosion in northern West Virginia, as mine officials tried to pinpoint the cause of the tragedy.

Rescue workers located the last of the bodies late Friday night and by midnight had brought all the victims to the surface at the Clinchfield Coal Co.'s Compass No. 2 mine at Dola, 12 miles northwest of Clarksburg.

The sheet-shrouded bodies were taken first to a company-owned building for identification, then to funeral homes in the area. There were no announced plans for mass funerals.

Authorities did not learn immediately what ignited the explosion 400 feet under the surface Thursday night but the ingredients were believed to be methane gas and coal dust, two old and deadly enemies of the miner.

Death apparently came quickly and mercifully. Most of the men, apparently were felled by shock waves from the explosion and died instantly. The bodies showed signs of concussion.

Woman Held In Deaths Of Children

FALMOUTH, Ky. (AP)—A 26-year-old Pendleton County housewife faces arraignment next week on five counts of murder—involving four of her seven children and a 45-year-old man.

The Pendleton County Grand Jury indicted Mrs. Virginia Hill Friday and Sheriff Robert Yelton said she will be taken before Circuit Judge John Lair on April 30.

Three of the children and the man, Theodore Hamilton, died in a fire that swept a Falmouth store and two upstairs apartments on Dec. 9, 1957. Authorities say Mrs. Hill admitted she set the blaze, but could give no reason for the act.

She was arrested after Kenny Dwane Hill, 2, died on April 7 and a pathologist found contusion marks on the lad's neck. She admitted Monday that she smothered the boy after her husband, Billy Hill, said he'd leave her, sheriff's deputies say.

Says He Was Told 'To Keep My Mouth Shut'

Ex-Marine Reveals Slaying of Cuban

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former Marine unfolds on Capitol Hill today his story that he was hustled out of the corps and ordered "to get lost and keep my mouth shut" about the 1961 slaying of a Cuban — allegedly suspected of being a spy — at the Navy's Guantanamo, Cuba, base.

The former 1st lieutenant, William A. Szili, said he was discharged after, he asserted, he had helped a captain—a Medal of Honor winner—dispose of the body.

Rep. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., told newsmen he had asked Szili, now living in Norristown, Pa., to discuss the case with him today to see if there is a chance of appeal.

The congressman emphasized, however, that everything will depend on what Szili tells him and on what the Korean War veteran wants to do himself.

"I feel that we should investigate before pursuing other lines of action," said Schweiker.

Szili has protested before—to Schweiker and other members of the Pennsylvania congressional delegation and to President Kennedy—but without disclosing the incident he says was behind his discharge.

Szili related his story Friday to The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin and explained that he had to sign a statement before his discharge saying he knew he could

Ocean Floor Photos Studied

Location of Lost A-Sub Is Sought

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP) — Pictures of the Atlantic floor, taken from the oceanographic research vessel Atlantis II, undergo scrutiny today for clues to the lost nuclear submarine Thresher.

Upon the success of the examination depends whether the bathyscaphe Trieste, now at Boston, may be called upon to descend soon to the 8,400-foot depth 220 miles east of Boston where Thresher is believed to have gone down with the 129 men aboard.

Trieste, the only device capable of withstanding the intense pressures at the bottom, is the Navy's best hope for getting a closeup view on the submarine. But salvage is out of the question.

At Portsmouth Naval Shipyard a Navy court of inquiry trying to find out what caused the disaster hears more witnesses in closed session.

At Friday's session of the court Capt. John J. Hinchey of Omaha, Neb., nuclear power superintendent at the Portsmouth yard, disputed earlier testimony that plastic found in the area where Thresher made her last dive appeared charred by flame. Hinchey attributed dark areas on the plastic to a lubricant used in machine tooling at the yard.

Wedding Bells?

Rumors of Rockefeller Marriage Increase

NEW YORK (AP)—Public speculation about Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's possible marriage plans accelerated today, fueled by a little fact and a lot of conjecture.

The lady whom rumor links with the Republican governor, 54, newly divorced Margaretta (Happy) Fittler Murphy, 36, remained in seclusion.

Just as the governor has refused to discuss his own divorce of 13 months ago, so has he refused to comment on the divorce four weeks ago of Mrs. Murphy, social register former member of his staff.

Her former husband, Dr. James S. Murphy, 41, works as a medical researcher for the Rockefeller Institute.

Although Rockefeller's press secretary painstakingly pointed out that the "no comment" should be taken to mean only that, the governor's refusal to quiet the rumors—and the smile on his face as he does so—inevitably prompted speculation.

And a rare three-week gap in Rockefeller's official schedule provided an anchor of fact for the gossip.

Rumors raced through political and social circles.

In Albany, sparked partly by cancellation of the governor's news conference Tuesday, the state capital buzzed this week with speculation that the marriage had occurred.

On Long Island, the gossip was that the marriage would take place there this weekend in the area of Southampton, where many in the Rockefeller financial circles make their home.

Amid the conjecture was the fact that Rockefeller's calendar shows no official engagements from May 9 to May 31. The governor, who has been shuttling between state business and speaking engagements across the nation seldom has such a lull.

Both Mrs. Murphy and Rockefeller's former wife, Mary Toddhunter Clark, 55, are members of socially prominent Philadelphia families. Both are heiresses.

Each chose divorce when marriage failed, the Rockefellers after 31 years and the Murphys after 14. Mrs. Rockefeller obtained her decree in Reno March 16, 1962, and Mrs. Murphy in Sun Valley April 1. Nevada and Idaho are the only states in the nation requiring only six-week residence.

Tornado: Nature's Deadliest Force

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Out of a witches-brew of clouds, a gigantic elephant trunk dangles from the sky. It spreads destruction wherever its writhing tip touches ground.

This is a tornado, the deadliest thing in nature.

In their ferocity tornadoes have driven wooden splinters into an iron fire hydrant; carried an 83-ton railroad coach with 117 passengers 80 feet through the air; split a huge tree, hurled an automobile into the split and closed the opening.

The tornado can occur anywhere in the country at any time of the year. It strikes, however, most often in spring and early summer in the central and southern Great Plains. Kansas, Texas and Oklahoma are the targets for most often in spring and early does. Add Iowa, Nebraska, Arkansas and Missouri to make a list of seven states having more than half the total number of tornadoes.

One Kansas town, Codell, had tornadoes on the same day at the same hour in three successive years.

The greatest killer of all swept from Missouri across Illinois and into Indiana on March 18, 1925, taking 689 lives. About 10,000 deaths are attributed to tornadoes over a 50-year period and property losses are incalculable.

Since 1954, the Severe Local Storm Forecast Center in Kansas City has predicted tornadoes and severe thunderstorms for the whole country with remarkable accuracy.

In operation, it's a quiet place. Teletype Machines gather hourly data from 300 reporting stations; charts are prepared listing temperature, barometric pressure, wind and humidity. In a darkened room a radar screen sweeps the sky for 250 miles in all directions. It is one of 30 such that together keep most of the country under surveillance.

This information is placed before the forecaster, who must rapidly weigh it and issue his report. If a severe thunderstorm is indicated, the center gets in touch with the Weather Bureau in the area and public warnings are issued.

"From what we know now, we have to be suspect of most thunderstorms," says Donald C. House, meteorologist in charge of the center. "We still don't know the linkage between the tornado vortex and thunderclouds and we have no reason to settle on one single cause."

"We are actively attempting to get close enough to find out what it is and we have planes flying out of Oklahoma City through severe thunderstorms."

High-flying U2 planes have been used to take readings and radar scanings are made at 40,000, 18,000 and 5,000 feet every six hours.

"Some of our radar operators think they can tell a tornado from a thunderstorm because it shows on the screen as a figure six," House said.

This month, a computer will be put to work at the center to digest and analyze information.

"It can do in 15 minutes the work that now takes 40 man-hours," says House. "But because the elements that make up predictions are so unstable, it still will take an experienced forecaster to give the final word. The trouble is that now he knows more than he can put to use in time."

A tornado causes its destruction at one place in less than 30 seconds. Its path can vary from a few yards to nearly 300 miles. Its rate of travel averages a slow 40 m.p.h. but the counter-clockwise winds at the center are estimated as high as 500 m.p.h.

Once a tornado is confirmed, by a spotter or radar, television and radio sets in the affected area crackle with announcements tracking its path.

The alerts advise residents to take shelter in the southwest corner of the house, because debris is thrown to the northeast—the most frequent direction of a tornado's route.

Tornado-wise people open windows, because twisters literally can explode a building by creating a partial vacuum outside. Corks fly from bottles and barrels splinter for the same reason—air inside pushing outward. The tornado's force and its lifting motion are the other causes of major damage.

Heavy rain and hail, lightning and thunder are the tornado's traveling companions. Hail stones eight inches in diameter have been recorded.

Despite the Weather Bureau's knowledge of tornadoes, House says, the farmer still knows them more intimately.

The reason: "He has seen more of them."

The expression "jalopy" for an automobile originated in the 1900s. Because of a shortage of autos in Mexico, many were shipped to Jalapa, Mexico, for resale and thus arose the corrupted term "jalopy" meaning an old automobile.

Did you ever hold in your hand a rose, a plant, or even a tiny seed and wonder where its beauty comes from? Or did you plant a seed and watch, day by day, and marvel at nature's way? How miraculous are the ways of nature; so beautiful that man can never fashion or create a rival.

Another word for nature, of course, is God. He creates. Beauty in all its forms comes from Him, and to us they are given; nature's bounties, we call them.

When you go to church this Sunday, say another word of "thanks" for all that is good, all that is beautiful; all that you possess!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Beauty Belongs to the People

Up-to-date word from Columbus says a bill to let strip-miners despoil Ohio-owned land has been dropped overboard to a quick death in the Senate.

Fine. Congratulations. It looked for a time as if the Senate committee on agriculture and conservation might fail to get the word from indignant Ohioans who didn't want park and wild-life lands torn up. Ohio natural resources director Fred E. Morr was in favor of this.

A bill to let the natural resources director sell, lease or exchange 68,000 acres of state parkland and 63,000 acres of wildlife lands to private firms for removal of coal, sand, gravel, oil, gas, stone or other minerals had gone whooping through the House of Representatives 123-1.

When news of this brazen move reached Sen. Lausche in Washington the former governor of Ohio urged an all-out fight to stop the deal, which amounted to using the state's right of eminent domain for the benefit of strip-miners. He is asking for a U.S. Department of Interior study of both strip and surface mining.

The issue in strip-mining is whether private enterprise has a right to despoil the earth for profit. It is that simple. No one objects to removal of minerals from the earth. The objection is to their removal in a way that leaves current generation and posterity a legacy of waste, ugliness and poverty.

In the case of publicly-owned parklands and wild-life preserves, the threat of despoliation for profit was unthinkable. Only one thing ever would alter the public's attitude toward strip-mining—conclusive proof that all strip-miners had relented of their cynical conviction that they owe no more than token restitution of land they despoil and not even that if they choose to reject the obligation.

Who Will Rescue Dear Old Sam?

To understand Laos it is necessary to remember that in 1954 the first item of U.S. business was to stop the losing war France was fighting in Indo-China.

The alternative was to send U.S. troops to Indo-China, which had been proposed by hot-headed militarists and even some fiery civilians. The negotiations were so delicate that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, whose starchy moral positions had irritated U.S. allies and infuriated its enemies, stepped aside for his undersecretary, the late Walter Bedell Smith.

The negotiations took place in Geneva. The war was stopped in July by a truce whose terms were unrealistic and unworkable. But France was able to extricate itself from a dilemma, and that was the objective. As for truce terms, everybody hoped for the best, including the native Communists. They alone had reason to hope for the best.

ACCORDING to the terms, Communists were to respect the territorial and political integrity of Laos, which was to be "demilitarized." But in fact Communists were left in control of the whole area because they lived there or lived nearby.

It was a certainty they would break down the truce one piece at a time until nothing was re-established.

It was a certainty the United States would be left holding the bag if Communist subversion became an issue. This has happened in South Viet Nam.

The question at the moment is whether it will happen in Laos.

NO ONE CLAIMS the United States can win anything by fighting in Laos. The question is how much it might lose by not fighting.

In 1954, the big thing was to extricate the French, who couldn't win either.

Who will extricate the United States from South Viet Nam and Laos?

Registering Sex Offenders

The reasoning behind the proposal to require habitual sex offenders to register, passed by the Ohio Senate but still to be considered by the House, is this:

That if these people's whereabouts are known, they will lack the opportunity to carry on their sex deviations without fear of detection barring some act of violence—when it's too late.

As to the possibility the offenders might locate in a new community without registering, the safeguard would lie in their absence from the community where they were registered. Registration would be automatic after conviction on a second-offense charge.

Information about them, in case they came up missing, would be filed in the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification. Whether they were in Ohio or a neighboring state, this information would be available to police authorities. If they moved without registering, that itself would be cause to pick them up.

I wouldn't be perfect. But it would be better than nothing. The idea followed a series of sex crimes against children, climaxed by a particularly atrocious attack on a little girl in Canton by a deviate who should have been kept under surveillance and could have been if he had been registered. Its original author was a county prosecutor, now a common pleas judge, John Rossetti of Stark County.

It was introduced in this session of the Ohio Legislature by Sen. Ed Witmer of Stark County. It is a safety-first measure that should not be controversial. It would have been enacted two years ago, except for what we consider to have been an ill-advised governor's veto.

Purely Personal

The same thing is wrong with statewide voting on blue laws as with statewide voting on daylight time. It is not a statewide issue but a matter for local determination, as has been demonstrated by the fact both are now being and have been determined locally.

I laughed aloud and blessed my whipping boys, the photographers, for the Satevpost picture of Queen Elizabeth holding down a blowing skirt while getting out of a car in New Zealand. Chin up, queen, it happens to commoners, too. We men love it.

One of my favorite things to watch is the scene when the bearer of bad tidings is struck down by the aggrieved receiver of the tidings. You can bet on it. Break the bad news, and the blame will fall on you.

I do not have in mind cancelling subscriptions but as a reader I am fed to the teeth with flashback articles on Marilyn Monroe. I did not dislike her. I am the proud possessor of her famous calendar poses. But I want no part of raking over the tragic circumstances of her life in an industry made to order for her tragic death.

A rumor is going around that I inherited from my father a tendency to plant things too deep. The tulip bulbs I planted last fall have had a struggle pushing through. I deny the rumor. My father planted seeds too deep according to my mother, but I doubt if he ever planted a bulb.

Women are wearing shorter dresses in Washington than they are wearing here, and the dresses they are wearing here steam my glasses when the wearers sit down. This is not a complaint, however, just a fashion note.

Nothing stirs up my working associates like my contention that women will take over newspaper editorial offices, the same as they have taken over other offices. My working associates say this will be done over their dead bodies, a statement in which I concur.

Steel Price Hikes: Lesson In Free Enterprise

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The American people have just been given a significant demonstration of how prices are made in a big industry under the free-enterprise system.

David Lawrence

national committee hearings and reports have ever told about price-making.

A small steel company raised its prices on some products, and the medium-sized companies accepted the figures.

Then, one of the large companies declined to go along at as high a figure as had been set by smaller companies. This caused the small companies which had previously raised their prices to revise them downward.

All this is natural and competitive. It's a system based on the demands of the market.

These modifications in steel prices would, in ordinary circumstances, have attracted no attention outside the industry but when, a year ago, a political judgment was made by the administration to intervene and coerce the companies to change the prices they had made, the price-making process itself became a national issue.

Ever since April 1962, not only steel but other large industries have been confused and frustrated on the subject of prices. The administration at that time started federal grand jury investigations and used other threats and forms of coercion against the steel companies.

The administration after a few days achieved its victory. But it was a pyrrhic victory. Confidence among businessmen sagged. The whole future of the free-enterprise system was threatened with government interference.

IT BECAME apparent in the last several months, even to labor leaders, that if the government, even without a law of Congress, could intervene to fix prices, it could do the same with respect to wages. Thus the outlook for collective bargaining has been clouded, and the way has been pointed toward a socialistic state. It was evident, therefore, that something had to be done.

It isn't too clear yet, however, that the way prices were recently adjusted is going to be a good pattern for the future. Maybe it would have been better if one or two of the larger steel companies had taken the lead as before, so that the smaller ones wouldn't have had to guess at how high the market could go in the face of competitive factors. It's important to study the facts of what actually has been happening. Steel products at this time are in heavy demand. Some of this buying is due to an inventory pileup and is based on an anticipation of another steel strike, later this year. Already it is being assumed, however, that if no strike occurs, there will be a drop-off in steel orders.

THE CURRENT DEMAND for steel cannot, of course, be satisfied speedily by one company. There's enough business, therefore, to go around but any company that sets a new price hopes for a protracted period of good business and naturally doesn't want to put the price up so high as to discourage a customer who has long-range plans.

The prices being set now do not indicate what the future will bring.

A smaller company always does the best it can to gauge the price that will attract customers, while a larger company, with more efficient plant and larger capacity, makes up its own mind, too, what a reasonable price would be.

In fact, the larger steel companies, for individual reasons of their own, recently announced a price lower than some of the smaller companies had proclaimed. So immediately the smaller ones had to get theirs in line. It was an economic necessity.

It's often argued that, when demand drops off, prices should always be lowered. This is a fallacy. Prices cannot be reduced below the point where a profit can be made. As labor and other costs go up, the general cost level goes higher. Hence, a company has to decide whether it will try to attract business by a lower price. The steel companies, on the other hand know that automobile manufacturers aren't going to buy more steel just because the price is low. They buy steel only when demand for cars is high enough to enable them to sell their products.

Each company, therefore, at this particular time has gone as high as it can in price. It was the judgment of the companies that their prices could be sustained at least for a while. While each company made its own judgment, there were some differences among them.

AFTER ALL the price changes had been publicly announced in the last two weeks, the company that chose a higher figure originally couldn't keep it above that of the lowest man and maintain good relations with regular customers. So, when the smoke cleared, all the prices had to settle down to the lowest point. This is natural price-making in a free market.

The new pattern may mean that the larger companies will know in advance just how far down the smaller companies can go and still stay in business. Some modifications downward might be forced by the larger companies, but not enough to warrant a charge that it is ruinous competition.

Coach Discusses Salem Basketball

Salem Senior High School's phenomenal basketball attendance is one of the marvels of the Inter-scholastic Sports World.

Such crowds would even be greater if the high school gymnasium (seating capacity 2,500) were larger. Since going into the new gymnasium in 1959 every game has been a sellout, most of them even before the season begins.

Such crowds just don't happen. There are many factors that create this situation. The first, of course, is consistently excellent winning basketball. The Quakers, usually one of the State's great basketball teams, has placed six times in the Ohio Top Ten teams since the ratings inception nine years ago. Salem ended two seasons in 11th place. This is a noteworthy feat, in view of the fact of our tough schedule and the fact that we have only 350 male students.

Salem has tremendous support from its student body and the entire adult population in all the school's undertakings and supports all its teams with tremendous pride indicated by our now famous slogan, "Love Those Quakers".

The tickets have become a matter of prestige with fans buying the same tickets for the same seats year after year. With adults going to the game it has become a big social event as well. After the games parties are held all over the town in many different homes. The topic of discussion quite naturally is basketball.

Many attend because they like the spirited and interesting play of the mighty Quakers against some of the State's finest opponents. The Quakers are always an interesting and colorful team.

An individual cannot help but feel he is part of the tradition and excitement as one walks through the lobby, passes the trophy case, and into the gymnasium where thousands have cheered and cried in the past years. As one watches one senses the presence of former greats whose names have become household words and whose deeds have inspired many of the younger players of Salem.

Winning teams, student and adult participation, an interesting schedule, and great tradition filled with pride are the factors that bring record crowds and financial rewards. We are proud of our sports but even prouder of the men who participate in them.

John A. Cabas,
basketball coach,
Salem High School.

Matter of Fact

The "median" is the point on a statistical scale above which and below which is 50 per cent of the distribution. As a measure of central tendency it has the advantage over the "arithmetical mean" or average. It remains unaffected by unusually high or low values of the variable. Given the values 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 100, the median is 6 but the arithmetical mean is 19.

Longshoremen Bow to State Dept.

By VICTOR RIESEL

Waterfront labor leaders, pressured by the State Department, have reluctantly declared a long moratorium on their boycott of Polish and Yugoslav merchant fleets now supplying Cuba.

Victor Riesel

because the highest government leaders have sent word that the boycott, which lasted only three days, interfered with U.S. efforts to break Warsaw and Belgrade from the Soviets.

Maritime labor leaders agreed that American foreign policy should be set by the State Department and not by the unions. But these are angry men. And their anger, compounded by bitterness springing from detailed knowledge of the heavy supplies pouring into Fidel Castro's Communist island, seeks some answers from the Department.

THEY POINT to two Polish ships, for example, the SS Bialystok and the SS Piast. These have recently carried vital cargo to Cuba—on orders from the Polish government.

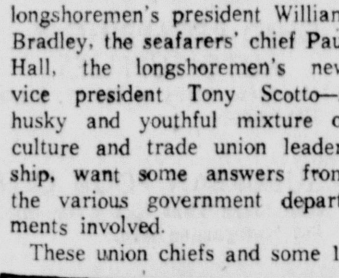

These vessels have shuttled, and other Polish ships will transport, electric motors, construction machinery, machine tools, trucks, tractors, agricultural equipment, autos, bicycles, chemicals and textiles. Certainly these shipments will strengthen Castro.

And if the bridge of freighters—which includes Yugoslav freighters—is not cut, Cuba will become a Communist showcase in Latin America.

Thus such labor leaders as the longshoremen's president William Bradley, the seafarers' chief Paul Hall, the longshoremen's new vice president Tony Scott—a husky and youthful mixture of culture and trade union leadership, want some answers from the various government departments involved.

These union chiefs and some 15 others, including New York teamsters leaders, decided at a recent meeting to pass on their sentiments to the AFL-CIO national president, George Meany. He in turn will contact the State Department.

THE LABOR LEADERS want to know directly from someone high in the government just how the Polish-Cuban traffic can be beneficial.

The union chiefs want to know just why they don't hear from the State Department on any matter until Dean Rusk's division has a problem and pass it on to the State Department, they are told that it will be taken "under advisement" and then there's a loud silence.

They want to know just how the State Department plans to keep American goods out of Cuba if Polish and Yugoslav ships are worked in U.S. ports.

They point out that the Polish and Yugoslav vessels pick up U.S. cargoes, transport them to Gdynia or Trieste. Then the markings or crates are changed to indicate Le Havre or London as the port of origin. Then the equipment is transhipped to Cuba.

AT THE CLOSED maritime labor conference in Room Seven on the Hotel Manhattan's third floor, there were many "beefs."

It was pointed out that the same Polish and Yugoslav fleets which serve Cuba and Communist China, compete with our own ships, many of which lie idle.

One of the angriest of the labor men present was Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union, whose followers go out to the deep seas. Curran said bluntly he wanted the nation's top labor leaders to deal with the top in government.

If the boycott is a matter complicating U.S. foreign policy, then, said Curran, there should be a liaison committee. It should be made up of labor men and representatives of the State Department, the Defense Department, the Commerce Department, the Labor Department, the National Security Council—and if possible, the President.

All the labor men resent the government's pressure. Especially since they know it followed complaints made in person to Secretary of State Dean Rusk by the Polish ambassador, Edward Drozinski and the Yugoslav ambassador, Veljko Micunovic.

THE POLISH ENVOY saw Rusk on Feb. 20. He attacked the boycott as an "artificial" obstacle and blistered the unions during his private talk with Mr. Rusk.

The labor leaders point out that Mr. Drozinski is hardly one who can afford to talk. His Prime Minister Wladyslaw Gomulka made his reputation as a turbulent labor leader in the oil fields, coal mines and textile mills, and called many a union demonstration and boycott in pre-war Poland.

It was further pointed out that Dean Rusk listened to the Polish and Yugoslav diplomats but never did bother to call in the labor men themselves. Rusk did send in a deputy to pressure them out of the boycott.

Now the labor men want a joint committee. The Ways of the waterfront are intricate. They believe they can help in this fight.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I see "Former Admirer" was shocked when she read you thought it was all right for a child to have a funeral for a pet cat or dog. Well, I have another shock for her.

Here, in our beautiful city of Grand Rapids, we have a pet cemetery. This pet cemetery has some lovely headstones and expensive monuments which have been erected by loving people in memory of their pets.

One always can tell where the fresh graves are because of the wreaths and bouquets of flowers. The people who bury their pets here are not crazy. They are normal individuals who enjoyed their pets and want to give them a nice final resting place.

I feel sorry for anyone who doesn't know the wonderful world of animals. They are missing one of life's greatest joys. — MICH-IGANDER.

Dear Mich: There is something heart-warming and lovely about a youngster's funeral for his pet. But pet funerals belong to a child's world.

A child who erects headstones for dead animals should reread St. Paul to the Corinthians: "When I was a child I spoke as a child, I thought as a child, I have become a man I have put away the things of a child." I add, humbly, "Amen."

The Better Half

Dear Ann: Most people write to you about their troubles. I want to write to you about my blessings.

It's a woman. And I am deeply in love. If you think I'm a teenager let me assure you I am not.

I have loved this woman for 41 years. The road has been a rocky one. We've had as much trouble or more than many of our friends.

I've gone broke. There have been illness — and tragedy—but never once did I doubt that I was a lucky man because I had this jewel by my side.

We have seven wonderful children. And they are wonderful because of her — not me. She has been the strength and the guiding light of our family.

Her hair isn't golden any more and her hands are work-worn.

To me she is the most beautiful woman in the world. I wouldn't trade her for Venus. That's love. — EL PASO.

Dear El Paso: You bet it is! How blessed you are to have these wonderful feelings. And she is blessed, too — to be so appreciated and loved.

Sputnik I imbued the term "Egg Head" with respectability, the speaker said.

Stressing that "the world isn't going to end in atomic warfare," Dr. Orr cautioned the students not to let the present unsettled times influence them into relaxing their efforts to prepare for better lives. "Don't let the world's muddled affairs interfere with your plans," he said.

THE SPEAKER EMPHASIZED the need for cooperation among all phases of society, as between labor and management for example.

Dr. Orr was introduced by Victor Wood, superintendent of Leetonia Schools.

Topics of Interest To Farmers; Notes About Meetings

Farm Bureau Growth

The 1963 membership campaign of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation has topped its goal of 51,879 farm families, Field Services Director C. William Swank reports.

"Membership leaders report 51,902 members signed with the drive's momentum continuing to collect an estimated 100 families more," Swank reported to the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation board of trustees. "This is an increase of more than 1,500 over last year."

Swank said at least 3,000 farmers worked in the drive and more than 70 counties surpassed their last-year figures.

The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation is a voluntary-membership general farm organization.

"Exceeding our goal indicates that more and more farmers approve of the responsible, action programs of the Farm Bureau," Swank said. "Ohio was fifth in the nation to secure its membership aims and second in the Midwest to report over goal to the 1,600,000-member American Farm Bureau Federation, the nation's largest farm organization."

private enterprise to get the program rolling.

The bill is big and complex and there have been questions about its constitutionality, particularly in the lending provisions.

But Rep. Thomas D. Gindlesberger, R-Holmes, who has been guiding the bill through committee hearings, says he is convinced it is constitutionally sound. He believes his opinion will be upheld by the courts.

Bond Counsel Agrees

That also is the opinion of Henry Crawford, bond counsel for the Cleveland law firm of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey.

Crawford points out that the bonds would not extend the full faith and credit of the state. The obligation for paying bondholders would rest with the financing commission, Crawford says.

"In no way can it become the obligation of the state," he adds. "What if the commission runs short of funds?"

"If there is not sufficient income—which always is a possibility with revenue bonds—you just have to wait until there is," says the bond specialist.

Revisions Minor The appropriations bill comes to the House floor with only minor revisions by the Finance Committee. The big plus factor as far as the administration is concerned is that it is balanced and proposes no tax increase.

And that, according to Rhodes, is a big step toward creating the kind of economic atmosphere that will make business and industry take root and grow in Ohio.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruise —

Dear Readers: The question: How to remove shoe polish and heel marks and ball point ink from a Naugahyde sofa, has come in many, many times. Finally Mrs. Leeson sent us the answer.

The suggested cleaning methods for these stains are:

Shoe polish and heel marks (including paint) should be removed immediately. Do not use paint remover or liquid type brush cleaners.

Use a white cloth, dampened with kerosene (and dear gals there's our old country kerosene again!) painters naphtha, or turpentine.

Care must be exercised to keep these fluids from contact with soft fabric or with wooden areas of the furniture.

Ball point ink may sometimes be removed if rubbed immediately with a damp cloth using water or rubbing alcohol. (And gals, there's our old cheap rubbing alcohol... again!)

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a tip for those who use velvet ribbons or bows etc.

When you prepare velvet ribbon for cutting... run a brush full of colorless nail polish across the ends and after it dries take your scissor and cut through the "polished" part. You will have smooth edges that will never fray or ravel or curl up!

Red polish even absorbs into black velvet and does not show the red color.

DEAR HELOISE: When I bought your new book at my local department store the book department suggested that it be wrapped with a bottle of vinegar as decoration! Needless to say I was pleased no end. The book is wonderful.

MRS. BUSH ETHERIDGE.

And you better believe it. If I owned vinegar company, I would have given you a free bottle!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I ice a cake with powdered sugar-icing I always make a little extra icing. Especially the chocolate kind!

After icing the cake... I always throw a little cereal in the pan, with the extra icing and stir it with a spoon and dip this out by spoonful and lay each dab on a sheet of wax paper. Make wonderful tid-bits! The kids just love them. There is no extra pan to clean as the pan is already in need of washing and these little drop crunchies suffice for the nights that I do not have dessert.

P. R.

When you do this... if you will add a spoonful of peanut butter (crunchy types are terrific) you will have something quite different and really perk. Try it.

You have nothing to lose. A spoonful of peanut butter and a bowl of cereal? Use it. Saves time later.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I buy a box of soap filled pads I take my scissors and cut them in fourths. I do an entire box at one time.

A fourth of a pad is just enough to clean one or two pots or pans. I find this much better than using the whole pad at a time as it is too much waste. Besides, you will never have any rust.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: I would walk a mile to buy groceries at any store that would sack them in colored bags! Don't grocers realize how pretty it would be for us to have a pink or green paper bag in the garbage pail?

Do you reckon that anybody would buy that?

DEVOTEDLY YOURS.

L.

I like the idea. I can imagine that some grocer will try it after reading this column.

Isn't life wonderful?

Salem Trackmen Outclass Girard Thinclads 72-46

Zilske Garners 440 For Salem

2 Different Relay Teams Win Races

By MARK W. MILLER

News Sports Editor
Coach Karl Zellers had a chance to do some experimenting as Salem's thinclads completely outclassed Girard 72-46 in a dual track and field meet at Reilly Stadium Friday.

The Quakers chalked up their sixth straight dual meet victory of the campaign. The Red and Black have also won a triangular meet and finished fifth at Steubenville last week.

Salem will entertain a strong Ravenna squad Tuesday. The Ravens have outstanding veterans back from last year's unit in the field events and distance races.

JOHN ZILSKE was the big gun for the Quakers, with two firsts and a second. He was put into the 440-yard dash and led from the start to beat teammate Dave Taus by about five yards in 52.9 seconds.

He also nipped, by about a half step, the Quakers' Bauman in the 100-yard dash in 10.7. The senior athlete leaped 19 feet, 2 inches for second in the broad jump.

One of the most improved members of the Salem team is miler John Tarleton who ran his best race of the season.

At the start of the gruelling distance event, Bill Carter of Salem took the lead and set a wicked pace for the first 880 yards.

Going into the turn of the third lap, both Bill Pieuch of Girard, and Tarleton made their moves, with Salem's ace coming from third place to go ahead.

The junior distance star went on to win the race by about 20 yards in 4:40.4. Only two boys in the district have done better this season.

SALEM'S PHIL BRANTINGHAM was edged in the 880-yard run by three tenths of a second in the most interesting race on the card.

Girard's Pieuch took the lead at the start of the event and led Salem's Tom Pim and Brantingham until 350 yards was left to go in the event.

Brantingham moved from third to first at this point, and it appeared he would win the race easily.

But the Indians' half-mile star had a final kick left and pulled ahead at the tape for the victory.

TOM FRANKLIN, who took two firsts for Girard, just missed setting his school's record in the high jump, at 5 feet, 10 inches.

He beat Salem's Bill Beery when he cleared 5 feet, 9 inches. Beery made his best jump of the campaign when he went over the bar at 5 feet, 8 inches.

Franklin also took the broad jump with a leap of 19 feet, 10 1/2 inches.

Coach Zellers shuffled his lineup in both relays and the change proved effective as the Salem units coasted to victory in the two races.

Mark Snyder, Dave Coy, Tom Bauman and Bill Beery were timed in 1:35.4 for the 880 - yard relay, while Coy, Reed Wilson, Tom Hutson and Dave Taus were clocked in 3:43.4 for the mile-relay.

6 Pros Tie For Lead In Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Six players, including Australian Bruce Crampton, who fell out of the undisputed lead when he took a horrendous 4-over-par triple buzzard, led the way into the third round of the closest Texas Open Golf Tournament yet.

And pounding along just three strokes away was a revitalized Arnold Palmer, the big favorite, who pulled his game together for a 3-under-par 68 in the second round Friday and climbed back solidly into the running.

The six players tied for the lead—Crampton, Tommy Aaron, Left-hander Bob Charles, rookie Frank Beard, Don January, and Jack Fleck—were only eight strokes away from the cutoff point that saw the field reduced to 65 pros and 10 amateurs Friday.

The leaders all had 136 for 36 holes.

A 144 was required to make it, and top players like Gene Littler, Jimmy Denaret, and Al Balding failed. Littler and Denaret wound up with 146, Balding with 147.

Gold Bar Softball To Face Merchants

The Gold Bar and the Salem Merchants will meet in an exhibition softball tilt at Kelly Park Sunday at 1:30 p.m.

Managers of both teams urge all players to attend the session. The Gold Bar is a Class A squad, while the Merchants compete in the Class AA division of the city leagues.

Wagner's Big Bat Sparks LA's Win

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bill Rigney was once asked about the possibility that Leon Wagner would be traded. The Angels' manager replied: "Where Daddy Wags goes, Rigney goes."

There's any number of reasons the Los Angeles manager could be high on the free-swinging outfielder he rescued from the minors, but Friday night's performance is as good an indicator as any.

Wagner's scorecard: Five hits, including two home runs and a double, and three runs batted in. Even at that, however, the Angels had to go to 13 innings before beating Baltimore 4-3 in a game that knocked the Orioles out of first place in the American League.

Lee Thomas opened that inning with a single and headed for third when Wagner rapped a single for his fifth hit. Baltimore center fielder Bob Saverine, trying to catch Thomas at third, threw the ball into the dugout and Thomas trotted in the winner.

Wagner's burst hiked his batting average to .333 and gave him six homers, tops in the league.

Cards Nip Dodgers 8-7; Buccs Rip Mets 5-2

Bruce Tosses 1-Hitter To Shut Out Cincy 2-0

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

"We're just not hitting, our pitching hasn't been too good, and our defense has been spotty." And if those words from Cincinnati Mgr. Fred Hutchinson don't accurately describe the reason the pennant hopeful Reds are in ninth place in the National League, then there haven't been 75 balks called this season.

Houston right-hander Bob Bruce made Hutch's words more prophetic once the teams took the field Friday night, allowing only a first-inning single by Vada Pinson while pitching the first one-hitter in the league this season for a 2-0 Colts' victory.

"We haven't had a run batted in from our third-base position (Gene Freese and Eddie Kasko), and none from our second base spot (Don Blasingame and Pete Rose)," said Hutchinson. "Vada Pinson hasn't been hitting, either."

Pinson hit against the Colts, getting the Reds' first and last when he singled sharply to right field in the first inning. Bruce, 29, a former American Leaguer, hit a batter in the second, then retired 19 in a row before allowing two base runners on walks in the ninth.

The Reds have lost four in a row—two by shutouts—and have scored only three runs during the skid.

Meanwhile, at the top of the standings, St. Louis took sole possession of first place when a two-run double by Bill White and George Altman's run-producing single with two out in the ninth carried the Cards to an 8-7 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Seven unearned runs and the three-hit pitching of Lew Burdette carried Milwaukee to a 9-2 decision over San Francisco. Pittsburgh whipped the New York Mets 5-2 and Philadelphia defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-2.

In the American League, Minnesota beat Detroit 7-5, the Los Angeles Angels outlasted Baltimore 4-3 in 13 innings and Kansas City and Washington split a two-night doubleheader. The A's won 12-10 in 13 innings before the Senators took the nightcap 6-0.

Behind by six runs early in the game, the Cards went into the ninth still trailing the Dodgers, 7-5. Singles by Phil Gagliano and Curt Flood set it up for White and Altman with two out. They came through against reliever Ron Perranoski, who took the loss. Ed Bauta was the winner.

The Dodgers had stormed ahead on home runs by Johnny Roseboro—his third in as many nights—and Frank Howard, plus six stolen bases, their highest one-game total since 1953. Willie Davis stole three, Maury Willis, Nate Oliver and Roseboro one each.

A damaging two-out error by Jim Davenport in the second inning opened the door for the Braves and seven runs stepped in. Norm Larker drove in two runs with a single and Eddie Mathews sent a pair across with a double. Hank Aaron hit his sixth homer for Milwaukee in the sixth inning.

Ted Savage's two-run homer in a three-run first inning uprising against Mets' starter Al Jackson and sharp relief pitching by Harvey Haddix got the job done for the Pirates. Haddix came on for starter Al McBean in the first when the Mets scored on four walks, and allowed only three hits until his arm stiffened after the seventh inning. Tom Sisk finished up.

Art Mahaffey checked the Cubs on three hits, one a two-run homer by Billy Williams in the sixth inning that ended Mahaffey's shut-out bid. Wes Covington, with a three-run homer in the fourth inning, and Johnny Callison with a solo shot in the fifth, did the damage for the Phillies against Glen Hobbie.

DAMASCUS Hot Stove Meeting Scheduled
DAMASCUS — All adults interested in assisting in the Damascus Hot Stove League program this summer are urged to attend a league meeting Sunday at 3 p.m. at West Branch School.

Hoy Smith, league president, said managers, coaches and umpires are needed.

Managers will receive equipment at tomorrow's meeting.

All boys planning on playing should turn in their forms so teams can be formed. Boys who intend to try out for the D. and E leagues are requested to secure forms from Smith and return them as soon as possible as not enough boys have registered to organize the leagues.

Practice will begin the second week in May except for the D and E leagues which will not practice until school is out.

U.S. Track And Field Stars Seek More Laurels In Pan American Games Today

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Swirler

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — Track and field, the headline sport, opens at the Pan-American Games today, with a patched-up U.S. squad expected to add heavily to its current haul of 38 goal medals.

Three men's finals—the 5,000 meters, high jump and shot put, are on today's card, along with trials in the 100 and 400-meter dashes. The long race could give the U. S. trouble.

The U.S. faces the track competition, which runs through next Saturday, with a patchwork lineup, occasioned by injuries and a few no-shows.

Argentina's veteran Oswaldo Suarez, who won the 5,000 and 10,000 in 1955 and was second at 5,000 and first at 10,000 in 1959, poses a threat to the Americans.

Ralph Boston, the U.S. broad-jump champion, will try his hand at the high jump in place of Joe Faust, who didn't make the trip. Ollan Cassell of Ft. Sam Houston, Tex. has replaced injured Jerry Ashworth of Haverhill, Mass., in the 100. Dave Davis of Canoga Park, Calif., a shot-put entry, will double in the discus for Rick Bakka of Manhattan Beach, Calif., who had to pass up the games.

Eight more gold medals in swimming complete that event today and Sunday, with the U.S. favored for all of them. The Americans have grabbed 11 of the 12 awarded so far, with only the men's diving medal escaping.

Friday night Roy Saari of El Segundo, Calif., won the 400-meter freestyle in 4 minutes, 19.3 seconds, and the men's 400-meter medley relay team won in 4:05.6. Both were Games records.

Ted Savage's two-run homer in a three-run first inning uprising against Mets' starter Al Jackson and sharp relief pitching by Harvey Haddix got the job done for the Pirates. Haddix came on for starter Al McBean in the first when the Mets scored on four walks, and allowed only three hits until his arm stiffened after the seventh inning. Tom Sisk finished up.

Art Mahaffey checked the Cubs on three hits, one a two-run homer by Billy Williams in the sixth inning that ended Mahaffey's shut-out bid. Wes Covington, with a three-run homer in the fourth inning, and Johnny Callison with a solo shot in the fifth, did the damage for the Phillies against Glen Hobbie.

DAMASCUS Hot Stove Meeting Scheduled
DAMASCUS — All adults interested in assisting in the Damascus Hot Stove League program this summer are urged to attend a league meeting Sunday at 3 p.m. at West Branch School.

Hoy Smith, league president, said managers, coaches and umpires are needed.

Managers will receive equipment at tomorrow's meeting.

All boys planning on playing should turn in their forms so teams can be formed. Boys who intend to try out for the D. and E leagues are requested to secure forms from Smith and return them as soon as possible as not enough boys have registered to organize the leagues.

Practice will begin the second week in May except for the D and E leagues which will not practice until school is out.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

A word from THERON at the Country Store

It's really something how people are finding their way to the Country Store. Not a day goes by, hardly an hour that someone does not come in for their first visit. Most of the newcomers seem satisfied and say they are going to come again and bring some friends.

It is a happy thought so many make regular trips from so many miles away. I have steady customers from Canton, Beaver, Pa., Follansbee, W. Va., Warren, Ohio, and even farther away.

If you don't shop with us we would like to have you join the thousands of happy people who do. Country Store Club Steak Dinner Winner: Margie Scott, Columbiana, Ohio
